

Jon Lehman

Product Designer & UIUX'r

Experience

Product Designer for Citrusbyte

July 2018 – Present

The majority of my time with Citrusbyte so far has been spent as the lead designer on a project with Apple. Working for a client as big as Apple certainly has its challenges. However, the experience working with such a highly skilled team is priceless. As the lead designer on the project I work with our internal engineering team and design stakeholders to create a digital user experience that is both practical and aligned with Apple's globally-known standard of excellence.

Creative Director & UI/UX Designer for Idea42

February 2016 – July 2018

I was originally hired as their UX/UI Designer but was promoted to Creative Director a month into working with them. While I performed as a UX/UI designer for client projects, I also took on a Creative Director role when working on internal products and the brand direction for Idea42. I lead the design from scratch for apps, websites, and software. I also helped clients improve their existing software through implementing better UX practices.

UI Designer for Steadfast Creative

Contracting from August 2015 – January 2016

Graphic Designer for KCM (non-profit)

September 2014 – February 2016

Graphic Designer for ONU Marketing

September 2012 – August 2014

Education B.S. in Graphic Arts & Advertising at Olivet Nazarene University

Skills: UI & UX Design, Branding & Identity, Motion Graphics, HTML, CSS, JS, WordPress, ReactJS & React Native

jonlehman.me | dribbble.com/jonlehman | info@jonlehman.me | 217.274.2168